Dear Bob:

The Director was out of town several days last week so he didn't receive your letter of January 20 until a couple of days ago.

He has asked me to arrange for a meeting with you when you come to Washington so that we can further explore your ideas.

You said you would be here in late January or early February. If you are going to be here this week, give me a call and I am sure we can work out a mutually agreeable time. Unfortunately, I am leaving this Friday, January 30, for a week's holiday plus a brief business trip, and I won't be back here in the office until Wednesday, February 11. Any time after that I'd be glad to see you.

With best regards, I am,

Sincerely yours,

H. Gates Lloyd
